

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

ANGLEC NEW BOARD OF DIRECTORS

The Anguilla Electricity Company Limited (ANGLEC) is pleased to announce the formal appointment of its new Board of Directors, following a special shareholders meeting held April 24th, 2025. The newly appointed directors are led by Mr. David Carty (Chairman), Mr. Ernest "Val" Banks (Vice Chairman) with a mandate from shareholders and the people of Anguilla to improve efficient and effective governance for ANGLEC, while resuming the company's previously publicized plan to transition strategically to renewable energy. In their first meeting held April 28th, 2025, a resolution was passed in keeping with their mandate to move as quickly as possible to reinstate Mr. Sutcliffe Hodge as CEO of the company.

Meet the Directors:

Mr. David Carty, Chairman and former Speaker of the House, is well known in Anguilla for his work in manufacturing and cultural preservation. His early and consistent advocacy for the development of renewable energy initiatives will be central to the mandate that ANGLEC is expected to deliver.

Mr. Ernest "Val" Banks, elected Vice Chairman has worked in the banking industry for the majority of his distinguished career, including as the CEO of the National Bank of Anguilla, offering ANGLEC's Board valuable financial acumen and leadership.

Ms. Zuleka Fraser contributes her dynamic multi-national experience in consulting and finance. She has worked on community development initiatives, technology projects, and affordable housing which lend an innovative and strategic advantage to the Board as it seeks to transform the company and its overall connection to the local, regional and international Anguillian community.

Mr. Stanley Reid has long experience in government service, having served as Deputy Governor of Anguilla for a decade. His knowledge of administration, policy and law will support the Board's strategic goals.

Mr. Patrick Mardenborough, a seasoned professional and former Customs Officer and entrepreneur returns to the Board of Directors. As a former ANGLEC Board Chairman he also brings valuable experience and perspectives on issues facing the company.

Mr. O'Shari Tomlinson is educated in engineering and has worked as an entrepreneur with innovative perspectives on branding, operational efficiency and technological advancement. His practical experience and desire for cultural and community development will assist the ANGLEC team in improving operations and social impact.

Ms. Jennifer Crawford comes from a strong utility management and finance business background with expertise in communications. She lends ANGLEC an advantage for staying well connected with customers and stakeholders as a central utility in Anguilla.

Ms. Sharon Hunte has been active in human resource management both in the United Kingdom and Anguilla. Telecommunications and utility management are her areas of expertise. She brings valuable insight into building stronger ties between ANGLEC and the wider community as a former Director of Personnel at Cable & Wireless.

Mr. Juan Richardson has served on ANGLEC's board in the past and worked externally with youth programs and outreach initiatives across Anguilla. His experience will help shape ANGLEC's ongoing support for community growth and as a respected member of Anguilla's Spanish-speaking community.

"I am very impressed with the direction and quality of discussion so far from all members" noted the Chairman following the first director's meeting. Mr. Carty further highlighted that the new Board has already begun showcasing their diverse talents, strategic thinking and critical analysis of issues facing ANGLEC and he looks forward to a fruitful tenure.
